THE NEW WAY FOR BUSINESS TO CONNECT®

THE RIGHT WAY FOR YOUR BUSINESS TO CONNECT

Like most businesses, you're constantly looking for ways to reduce costs, improve reliability and simplify business operations. The Total Communications options from Allegiance Telecom let you get a handle on all your telecommunications needs, allowing your business to cost-effectively combine voice and Internet applications over the same line.

Because you get all your telecommunications services over a single device, you don't need to purchase numerous network elements from multiple vendors, thereby reducing overall costs and improving reliability. And partnering with Allegiance Telecom means you will receive one easy-to-understand bill as well as unmatched customer support and responsiveness from a single point of contact.

Allegiance Telecom is a facilities-based competitive local exchange carrier that offers businesses a complete package of telecommunications services, including local and long-distance service, high-speed data access and Internet services. We currently provide our "one-stop shopping" alternative in 27 U.S. markets and are targeting to be in 36 major metropolitan areas by the end of 2001.
